Women Warriors

Wing Chun-1994, 90 min. 詠春

Friday, October 6, midnight

Saturday, October 7, 11 a.m.

Saturday, October 14, midnight

Michelle Khan displays her talents as the beautiful tofu saleswoman turned martial arts heroine, Yim Wing Chun, who challenges local thieves, lecherous misers, and centuries of entrenched sexism. Directed by Yuen Woo-ping (Drunken Master), this action comedy champions the underdog and is the perfect vehicle for Khan's exciting, high-kicking action.

Saturday, October 14, 11 a.m.

Saturday, October 21, midnight

Brigitte Lin is back as the bride out for revenge! The descendants of the eight clans fight for their lives while Lin heads up a battalion of love-scorned women trained to kill all men. Meanwhile, her ex-lover (Leslie Cheung) languishes over a flower that blooms once in ten years as penance for his betrayal. Co-directed by Ronny Yu (Bride With White Hair) & David Wu.

11 a.m. & midnight

Saturday, November 4, midnight

In this early Jackie Chan classic directed by Yuen Woo-ping (Drunken Master), the king of kung fu comedy plays Chien Fu, a maltreated hired hand who accidentally teams up with Pai Chang-tien, a fugitive from the Manchurian regime and sole survivor of the Snake School of Chinese boxing. The fateful encounter leads to friendship, danger, and fighting aplenty as Chien becomes the newest defendant and champion of the renegade school.

Tsui Hark Rules!

The Raid-1991, 99 min. 財叔

Based on the 1960s comic book hero, Uncle Choy, Tsui Hark masterfully brings animation to life in this comedy kung fu actioner set during the Japanese occupation of China before World War II. Uncle Choy and his faithful sidekicks are bungling tag-alongs who never get the credit when they save the day which they do when a squad of Chinese soldiers go on a search-and-destroy mission in a Japanese chemical weapons factory.

Friday, November 3, midnight

Saturday, November 4, 11 a.m.

Saturday, November 11, midnight

The Chinese Feast-1995, 92 min. 金玉滿堂

In a Hong Kong version of the Taiwan-made Eat, Drink, Man, Woman wouldn't you expect gangsters and slapstick comedy? Well, Tsui Hark delivers with Leslie Cheung as a loan shark hungry for a Canadian visa which he can only get by posing as high class chef. His charade puts him in contact with the punked-out daughter (Anita Yuen) of a master chef caught in his own web of intrigue and competition in the mouth-watering world of culinary arts.
